FINE SHOWING MADE BY LOCAL CHURCHES

Reports Are Quite Gratifying to Workers.

GREENSBORO POLICY.

Seventeen Churches Reporting Show That Two Thirds of Pledges Have Been Paid and Fiscal Year In Several Churches Have Not Yet Ended—Eloquent Appeal For Workers Last Evening By Dr. Reavis—Sessions Yesterday of Most Inspiring and Helpful Nature—Speakers Thanked.

The anniversary convention, held in commemoration of the great Laymen's Convention held here last January came to a close last evening, following an eloquent appeal for aid for the missionary workers in Africa and for workers in that benighted land. Dr. J. O. Reavis was the speaker and for more than an hour he held the undivided attention of his audience as he portrayed the need of Christian workers in Africa and told of the great work being accomplished by those who are laboring there.

The closing service was largely attended, many ladies being present. The workers were greatly inspired at the fine showing made by the seventeen churches making reports, the figures being compiled and posted on a large card board. They showed that while less than half of the church members were regular contributors to the cause more than two thirds of the total amount pledged by the churches had been paid in, despite the fact that the fiscal year had not ended in several churches. The Greensboro policy for the coming year was unanimously adopted.

The services last night were presided over by Mr. A. M. Scales. Following an inspiring song service Rev. Dr. Wood led in prayer. Rev. T. J. Ogburn read the 67th Psalm and a quartet, rendered a selection. Mr. Scales then introduced Dr. J. O. Reavis, who spoke on "Africa as I Saw It."

The address was most interesting and the speaker was heard with intense interest by the large audience. The speaker took the audience with him on the trip into the dark continent. A large map of Africa was on the wall, showing the owners of the various countries of the continent. He carried the audience up the Congo river to the missionary station at Lhubo. He spoke of the devotion of the native missionaries and the converted natives. They are men of fibre and are most active in their work of spreading the news of God's love. "Each day at daylight they gather to offer prayer for God's people all over the world, are you meeting each day and praying for these men?" asked Dr. Reavis. He spoke of their liberality in contributing to the cause, this one station supporting 25 missionaries at a sacrifice. About 600 meet at daylight for prayers, at noon 700 attend the day service. Each Sunday the congregation averages 1500. The boys and girls must be taught to love and serve God, the natives say, if the country is to be evangelized and all the inhabitants be shown the way from darkness into light.

In speaking of the climate the speaker pointed out the fact that the people of the Southern States could stand the heat better than men from most any other Christian nation. And, he said, the people of the South are using the negroes, members of the Ethiopian race, in accumulating much weath and is it more than just that they should contribute liberally of their means in spreading the gospel in this benighted land? He declared that a dollar spent for foreign missions was the next day given to home missions, in that as soon as a native was converted he became an active worker among his fellowman.

The speaker spoke of the cannibal tribes and the great power of God's love in transforming their cannibalistic desires into a love for their fellowmen and a desire for light and service in the bringing of the gospel to the uttermost parts of the earth.

The speaker drew many vivid mind pictures of the conditions existing in that section of the dark continent and made a touching appeal in behalf of the countless thousands who are now living in heathen darkness. They are looking to you for light. Christ died for them just as he died for you and me and what are you going to do in bringing them into the light of God's love, asked Dr. Reavis in conclusion.

Rev. C. F. Reid led in prayer and the audience joined in singing "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name."

Mr. C. A. Hines made the report of the tabulating committee. It showed that 17 churches had made reports, the totals following:

Communicants	5,329
Number who pledged to missions	2,422
Total pledged	$19,549.00
Per Capital	$3.67
*Paid to date	$13,013.00
Total Paid last year	$7,188.00
Churches having mission study classes	6
Missionaries in field	5
Churches making every member canvass	9
Churches holding Laymen's Missionary Meetings Quarterly	4

*It should be stated that some of the churches did not begin the weekly collections for some weeks after the convention, therefore the entire year is not yet out. All churches agree to raise the amount pledged within the year from the time they began.

Mr. G. H. Miles moved that cards be printed, showing how much money is contributed to home missions in order that it may be demonstrated that the larger the amount for foreign missions, the larger the contributions for home missions. It was also decided to print the Greensboro Policy and distribute copies among the several churches.

The committee on nominations recommended the following executive committee, the same being chosen: F. P. Hobgood, Jr., chairman; A. M. Scales, C. H. Ireland, E. J. Davis, T. A. Hunter, J. F. Troxler, J. B. Stroud, G. H. Miles, C. M. Vanstory, O. C. Wysong, L. M. Clymer, J. Norman Wills, P. W. Schenck, R. A. Merritt.

The speakers were extended a vote of thanks for being present and making the addresses.

Yesterday's Sessions.

The session yesterday morning was one filled with inspiration and the addresses were of a most helpful nature. The attendance, while not large, was encouraging and the audience represented the most active laymen of the city. Mr. G. H. Miles presided. Rev. T. F. White, returned missionary to Porto Rico of the Southern Christian Convention, spoke of the work in Porto Rico, his [illegible] being full of information [illegible] that island, its customs and [illegible] great need of missionary work [illegible] among the inhabitants. He also spoke [illegible] the great development of the country since the advent of the missionaries.

Mr. S. R. Harris, of Henderson, a prominent layman of the M. P. church of that city, made an able address on "The Broadening Effect of the Laymen's Missionary Movement on the Individual." His was an earnest plea for development along all lines of Christian work in the church and pointed out the fact that the Laymen's Movement was a factor in this development of the lay members. The address was filled with practical truths.

At noon the reports from the several churches were made, the showing being given elsewhere.

At the afternoon session addresses were made by Rev. J. Kenneth Pfohl, of the Moravian church, of Winston-Salem, and Rev. J. H. Peele, of Guilford College. Both addresses were full of practical suggestions that found a ready response in the hearts of the audience. At 4 o'clock denominational rallies were held, this feature being of especial interest and a most enjoyable as well as instructive occasion.

Missionary Policy of Greensboro, N. C.

Resolutions presented to the Anniversary Meeting of the Laymen's Missionary Convention of Greensboro, N. C., Jan. 12-13, 1911.

Resolved first—That we return our thanks to the Great Head of the church for His signal blessing upon the work inaugurated by the Laymen's Missionary Convention of January 12-14, 1910, by which the pledges made twelve months ago have been fulfilled.

Second—That we express our hearty commendation upon the work, plans and methods of the general committee of the National Laymen's Missionary Committee.

Third—That we agree during the next twelve months, with God's help, to put into operation these plans and methods of work, in our individual churches and, in particular, agree to endeavor to organize and conduct Men's Mission Study Classes, to have our churches adopt the plan of systematic weekly offerings for foreign missions, using the duplex envelopes and to make the every member canvass for Foreign Missions.

Fourth—That we will endeavor to conduct Quarterly Laymen's Missionary meetings in our churches.

Fifth—That as individual men who recognized the binding obligation of the last great commission of our Lord we will endeavor to send His Gospel to the whole world in this generation, and that this might be accomplished we will devote ourselves to the task of arousing interest among church members at home.

THE GREENSBORO NATIONAL

The stockholders of the Greensboro National Bank met in their regular annual meeting on Wednesday the 11th inst., and the annual election of directors and officers was held, resulting in the re-election of all the old directors and officers.

The report of the president and directors to the stockholders was read by the president, Capt. Neil Ellington, and the stockholders expressed themselves as being pleased with the showing made. The usual semi-annual dividend of 4 per cent was paid, and quite a nice balance was left of the profits to be carried forward into the new year.

The following are directors and officers of the bank. Directors: Neil Ellington, W. E. Bevill, C. D. Benbow, R. R. King, A. G. Kirkman, L. McCulloch, R. M. Rees, C. M. Vanstory, C. G. Wright, W. J. Armfield, of High Point, and W. H. Ragan, of High Point.

Officers: Neil Ellington, president; W. E. Bevill, vice president; A. H. Alderman, cashier. The force employed in the office besides, consists of Waldo Porter, teller, C. W. Smith, head bookkeeper; Chas. F. Alderman, general bookkeeper; C. C. Meroney, bookkeeper; Hargrove Bowles, collector, and Miss Florence N. Stokes, stenographer.

CHARGED WITH INFANTICIDE.

Negro Girl Charged With Taking Life of Her Babe At High Point.

Yesterday an officer brought Mary Raper, a negro girl, from High Point and lodged her in jail here. She is only 17 years of age, and is charged with the crime of infanticide. She was living with J. H. Adams at High Point, and on Thursday night, about 8 o'clock, the girl was heard to scream in a room at his house. Surmising the cause of her agony he hastened to the door but found it locked. A doctor was summoned and later a police officer; when they had gained admittance they found that the girl had given birth to a child and had afterwards taken its life. She was sitting on the body, which had been hidden under the bed clothes.

The girl claimed that the child had fallen out of bed. But the verdict of the corner's jury yesterday was, that the loss of its life was due to violence.

A GREAT GATHERING

Greensboro Man Impressed By Attendance At Meeting of Virginia Horticultural Society.

Mr. John A. Young has been in Roanoke attending a meeting of the Virginia State Horticultural Society. He writes a friend that the meeting was the finest of the kind he ever attended. More than one thousand active members, he states, were present at every session. The meeting was held in the auditorium of the National Business College of Roanoke and this hall, which is a large one, was filled at every session.

Dr. and Mrs. Ross Arrive.

Dr. G. Floyd Ross is back from Philadelphia with his bride, and they will make their home at 1022 West Market street. Dr. Ross married Miss Margaret Struthers Joyce, of Philadelphia, in that city last Tuesday.

GREENSBORO TO BE REPRESENTED

At Municipal Meeting in Raleigh.

Committee Appointed at Regular Meeting of Aldermen Yesterday Afternoon—Adjourned Meeting to Be Held Tuesday Night to Prepare For Election on Commission Plan—Other Business.

At yesterday afternoon's meeting of the Board of Aldermen Mayor E. J. Stafford, City Clerk John S. Michaux, and City Attorney T. J. Shaw were appointed a committee to attend the meeting of the Carolina Municipal Association, which will be held in Raleigh on Wednesday and Thursday of next week. At this meeting a number of matters of importance will be discussed and legislation looking to a more equal distribution of the taxes between the cities and rural districts will be asked for. As is well known at present the cities pay into the county school fund considerably more than they receive in return and in addition all the fines for offenses handled by cities go into the county school fund. Then too a number of special license taxes are levied by the state and county, a part of which should be given the city.

The board was in session about two hours, but little business of importance being done. Supt. Hutchens, of the Southern Railway, appeared before the board regarding the company's bill against the city for work done on the Fulton street subway and also regarding the proposed subway at Martin street. The city contends that the company spent too much on the Fulton street subway drainage, the bill being for $1,097 for laying pipe, excavating, etc. The Street Commission and Aldermen King and Albright were empowered to investigate the cost and settle with the company. As to the Martin street subway, the contract for which was made at the time the Fulton street work was contracted for, has been held up on account of lack of funds. The company has driven piles and gone to considerable expense in getting the required material and it now expects the city to do its part of the work before the piles rot. Aldermen Albright, and Glascock were appointed a committee to get all necessary facts and figures and report at the first meeting in February, though the matter will in all probability be left open until the Commission form of government takes hold.

Several applicants for license to drive autos were passed by the board.

The committee reported as to the erection of steps on East Washington street, leading into the basement of the Holton building. No action was taken, several members expressing their belief that it would not be a good idea to allow a portion of sidewalk the city had paid for be used in this manner.

J. C. Olive wanted a rebate of $5 per month on his rent for a stall in the city market. Market committee to take matter up.

The question o fadvertising for the election to vote on the commission plan was taken up, it being decided to adjourn until Tuesday night as no election can be ordered until the bill becomes a law. It was stated that an amendment was being passed to allow the registration books to remain open for ten days in order that those who did not participate in the school bond election last spring might have a chance to vote on the question.

The report of the committee on the playground association was postponed until Tuesday night as was the Clendenin ordinance regarding the sale and installation of oil and gas lighting fixtures. E. E. Bain and E. A. Brown were appointed as members of the Firemen's relief fund.

A motion was passed appropriating funds to cover the expenses of the committee to the meeting in Raleigh next week.

State Bar Association.

Raleigh, Jan. 13.—The executive committee of the North Carolina Bar Association selects June 28, 29, 30 for the next annual meeting. They left place of meeting open for announcement later when the program will be completed.

JOINT MEETING TODAY

County Commissioners, Board of Education and Educational Committee of Farmers' Union To Petition Legislature.

At an enthusiastic meeting of the County Commissioners, the County Board of Education, and the Educational Committee from the Guilford Farmers' Union held last Monday afternoon in this city resolutions were unanimously adopted asking the Legislature to pass a law enabling the county to have a superintendent of health, a commissioner of agriculture, and a superintendent of domestic science, each official to devote his full time to his respective office.

Today an adjourned meeting of the three bodies will be held, after which the proposed law, drafted by a committee chosen for that purpose, will be forwarded to the Legislature, and the Guilford representatives will be urged to see that it is made a law.

At the same time a committee from the Bar association and one appointed by the County Commissioners and the Board of Education will, in conjunction with the Agricultural Association, draft resolutions jointly and separately, opposing the new county movement.

The financial side of the question will be set forth in the resolutions, together with other such reasons as many be deemed necessary and just, which resolutions will also be forwarded to Guilford's senator and representatives at Raleigh.

ANOTHER HOUSE ENTERED

Servants Quarters At Mr. Nick Mebane's Ransacked by Another Dusky Prowler.

Thursday night the servant's house on Mr. Nick Mebane's premises, on Library Place, was broken into and a number of pieces of clothing stolen from a trunk. The thief succeeded in getting away without detection.

On the same night a negro man visited the residence of Mrs. B. J. Fisher, on Summit avenue, and asked for a situation as servant. He had been there before with a like excuse for his presence, but Mrs. Fisher did not especially like the method of having to halt him in his practice of prowling and loitering around to ask him his business. The matter was reported to the police and if they lay the arm of the law on him in similar maneuvers, they will perhaps have in hand at least one of the number of dusky gentlemen who are entering servant's houses and accosting citizens at late hours to ask unnecessary and suspicious questions.

THE UNITED STATES COURT

Gastonia Firm Bankrupt—Decree in Williams Case Signed.

Yesterday in District Court, Judge Boyd signed an order adjudging O. M. Boyd and B. W. Boyd, partners in the firm of O. M. Boyd & Co., of Gastonia, bankrupt. This was upon their own petition. The matter was referred to W. S. O'B. Robinson, Jr., referee, at Charlotte. Geo. W. Wilson is the petitioners' attorney.

In the regular term of the Circuit and District courts a decree was signed and filed in the case of the United States vs. 635 barrels of whiskey belonging to N. Glenn Williams; this decree in agreement with the verdict rendered by the jury for $1000 and costs.

THE CONTRACT LET.

Winston Concern Will Erect Greensboro Y. M. C. A. Building.

The contract for the erection of the Y. M. C. A. building was yesterday given to the Ange-Caldwell Construction Company, of Winston-Salem, who agree to do the work for $39,261. They further agree to complete the building within six months after the contract is signed, and to give bond for strict adherance to contract and specifications.

The committee desired to contract with a home company for the erection of the building, but they were all too high. The price set by the lowest Greensboro bidder was higher by $2,500 than that of the Winston concern.

Funeral Yesterday.

The funeral of Mr. J. W. Vanstory was held at 11 o'clock yesterday morning at the home of his mother, Mrs. Mary Vanstory, conducted by Rev. Mr. Woosley, of Proximity Methodist church. Interment in Green Hill.

2 NEW TRAINS WILL BE ADDED

Between Greensboro And Raleigh.

Announced That Additional Passenger Service Will Be Inaugurated Within Next Two Weeks — Train Leave Greensboro At Seven-Thirty A. M. and Reach Greensboro At Ten P. M.—Schedule Should Be Reversed.

As a result of correspondence between the Corporation Commission and officials of the Southern Railway it is announced that within the next two weeks the Southern will inaugurate additional passenger train service between Greensboro and Raleigh. There is now pending in the legislature a bill requiring that this service be improved by the addition of a train each way daily.

That this additional passenger service is needed is apparent as this division does an immense passenger business. In fact the trains to and from Raleigh are always well patronized, barring the midnight train and not infrequently this is filled.

A special to The Telegram from Raleigh gives the proposed schedule and this is of a most unfavorable nature to Greensboro, as a brief glance will show, despite the fact that it will in a measure relieve the congested traffic on this line of road. It will also be quite unsatisfactory to a large number of people living between Greensboro and Durham, who would like to have the schedule arranged so they could come to Greensboro and return home the same day. The new train will leave Greensboro at 7:30 a. m. and arrive in Raleigh at 10:30 a. m. Returning it will leave Raleigh at 7 p. m. and reach Greensboro at 10 p. m., making sleeper connections with No. 38 for Washington.

The Chamber of Commerce should take this matter up with the railroad officials and request that the schedule be fixed about as follows: Leave Raleigh at 6 a. m. and reach Greensboro at 9 a. m., making connection with No. 44 for Washington. Leave Greensboro about 7 p. m. immediately after the arrival of Nos. 35 and 43 from the north. Or the train from Charlotte could be held over for an hour and go direct to Raleigh. Also the train arriving here from Raleigh at 9 a. m. could continue to Charlotte, making the new trains operative from Raleigh to Charlotte, via Greensboro, doing away with the train for Charlotte, leaving here at 3:50 a. m. as this train is not very well patronized. It is believed that the latter suggestion would meet the approval of the public and would be more saisfactory to the patrons of the road than any schedule that could be arranged.

In case this schedule were adopted people living in towns east of Greensboro could come here in the morning, spending the day shopping, and return home at night. At present they have to get up before day or wait until noon and return home at midnight or remain until the next day.

PLAYGROUND STAMPS

Soon On Sale—To Buy One Is To Help Worthy Movement.

Playground stamps will soon be on sale in Greensboro. They will sell at 2 cents each and every stamp bought will mean a contribution of two cents to the playground fund.

Forty business firms have bought ten dollars worth each of these stamps.

The playground stamps will be on sale at many places throughout the city. They are expected to yield a handsome sum for the public playgrounds the need for which is acknowledged to be very great in Greensboro.

Literature Department, Woman's Club.

The literature department of the Woman's Club will meet this afternoon at 4:15 o'clock in the Carnegie library. Study for the afternoon will be Dickens. All members of other departments are cordially invited to meet with this department.

CARDINAL RAPS SUFFRAGISTS

Lauds Motherhood at Opening of Settlement Home.

Baltimore Sun.

"Seek the spirt of Christian motherhood and do not go running around the city seeking equal rights with men," was the advice Cardinal Gibbons gave the ladies who were present at the opening of the home of the Willing Workers' Guild of Sts. Philip and James' Parish, at 402 West Twenty-ninth street.

This is the first settlement house to be established in the city under Catholic auspices and the Cardinal has taken great interest in the work and manifested it by his presence at the dedicatory exercises.

After blessing the home, assisted by Rev. John E. Wade, pastor of Sts. Philip and James', and Rev. Hugh J. Monahan, the assistant pastor, the Cardinal said:

"I want to commend you ladies and your pastor. This is a noble work you have entered upon and I know it shall bear fruit You are the pioneers in a most holy work undertaken in the true spirit of Christianity. Your motherhood is asserting itself, and I assure you, you are doing a better work than those who are running about the city seeking equal rights with men.

"Yours is a noble calling. Be woman and mother and let the man fight the political battles. There is a great work here for you to do and you will find it more interesting than the other to which I have just referred."

The Cardinal expressed the hope that similar homes of industry for the instruction of poor children would be established all over the city. He urged upon the workers the necessity of caring for those who cannot attend the schools or are too poor to buy clothing to go to class.

Death in Roaring Fire

may not result from the work of fire bugs, but often severe burns are caused that make a quick need for Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the quickest, surest cure for burns, wounds, bruises, boils, sores. A Yellow Peril.

"I noticed in a magazine article," says the man with the thick glasses, "that the scientists are getting the germs of hog cholera from pigtails."

"I've always argued that the Chinese exclusion law should be more strictly enforced," says the man with the straggly whiskers.—Chicago Post.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY PILLS

Are tonic in action, quick in results. A special medicine for all kidney and bladder disorders. Mary C. Abbott, Wolfeboro, N. H., says: "I was afflicted with a bad case of rheumatism, due to uric acid that my kidneys failed to clear out of my blood. I was so lame in my feet, joints, and back that it was agony for me to step. I used Foley's Kidney Pills for three days when I was able to get up and move about and the pains were all gone. This great change in condition I owe to Foley's Kidney Pills and recommend them to anyone suffering as I have." Howard Gardner.

Reflection.

For every tear there is a smile,
For every grief, a recompense;
I'm satisfied to stay awhile—
This world's a good old residence!

WORRY AND HURRY

are the two great foes to digestion—and very few people reach the age of forty without falling a victim to indigestion in some form or other.

Undigested food is a serious menace to health and is the cause of headaches, sleeplessness, flatulency, gas and distress in the stomach, despondency, nervousnes, bad breath and impure blood.

In such cases Vinol has a marked beneficial result. It seems to go directly to the seat of the trouble, strengthens and tones up the tired, weakened nerves of the stomach, enabling one to digest with ease the very foods that once caused distress.

A case has just come to our attention in Barre, Vt. Mr. Samuel Wheeler suffered with a stomach trouble for years and had taken all kinds of medicines without relief, and at last found a cure in Vinol. He says Vinol was worth five dollars a bottle to him. (We guarantee this testimonial to be genuine.)

If you suffer from any form of stomach trouble, try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. Fariss-Klutz Drug Co., Greensboro, N. C.

American Golf.

Certainly you are in good luck as a golfer if you go to America at all, for they are gloriously hospitable in that land, and, so far as I could see, the idea that some have here—that the American's notion of the object of playing a game is purely to win it, not to enjoy the playing—is perfectly mistaken. I never had the impression more strongly anywhere of being in the company of men who were playing the game for pleasure, not for the mere sake of winning the match. But then it is certainly true, as I heard one of their judges (I mean a legal judge, though he was a judge of golf, too) say in an after dinner speech that it is "the cleanest sport in America."—Horace Hutchinson in London Telegraph.

The Voice of the People.

Lady John Russell visited Paris as a girl in 1830 and witnessed the somewhat artificial enthusiasm for Louis Philippe, who had just been placed on the throne by the revolution. "It is said," we are told, "that any small boy in those days could exhibit the king to curious sightseers by raising a cheer outside the Tuileries windows, when his majesty, to whom any manifestation of enthusiasm was extremely precious, would appear automatically upon the balcony and bow."

One Formality.

"Oh, joy! She has written a letter saying she will marry me."

"Congratulations. When?"

"Well—er—you see her father has to indorse this promissory note before it's good."—Cleveland Leader.

How Ma Resembled Him.

"Tommy, you don't take after your father much, do you?"

"No, ma'am. But, gee, you ought to see the way ma does sometimes!"—Exchange.

Giving Hubby a Chance.

"Did you make any resolutions at the beginning of the year, Mrs. Stout?"

"Yes, I made one."

"What was it?"

"I kind of hate to tell."

"Pshaw! I won't repeat it."

"Well, I have resolved not to scold my husband once until I have counted 10."

"How does it work?"

"Beautifully. I was going to scold him yesterday, but before I had finished counting he had promised to buy me a diamond bracelet."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Home protection is true wisdom. Vick's Croup and Pneumonia Salve ought to be in every home for its quick relief and prevention of two dangerous diseases and the more common ailments such as Colds, Catarrh, Burns and Chaps.

Progress in the human race depends less on getting ahead than on helping along.

A Sure Prescription for frosted feet or hands, and for healing wounds without scars or for relieving all Rheumatic pains and bruises, is Vick's Great Antiseptic Liniment. It is the Family Liniment of the day, 25 cents.

Made His Position Clear.

An old Pennsylvania German living in the mountains had a hard three hours' dusty walk to accomplish one morning, and he rose very early to make his start. He had gone but a little way when he was overtaken by an automobile. The driver picked up the old man, and they were at his destination in about twenty minutes.

"Danks so much awfully mit de ride. If I had known myself to be here already two hours in front of de clock yet I vud be at home fast asleep already to start unless I knew you vud not have picked me up since."—Housekeeper.

Scottish Students' Dress.

The Scottish university student has a code of etiquette in clothes as strict as that of Eton or of Harrow. And into it the straw hat enters. On Sept. 15, be the weather ever so bleak, the streets are full of what the small boy knows as "strawbashers." On the 16th you will find never a one—on a student's head, that is. As for the medical student, he seldom wears a straw hat at all or anything in its place. It is his pride to go bareheaded, as it is to wear a fancy waistcoat and turned up trouser ends. The arts and divinity men sedately avoid these last three fashions.—London Chronicle.

The Forgotten Picture.

Mr. Hope Moncrieff recalls in "London" a curious story of Lord Hertford. The one noble taste he had was for the collection of pictures, which he is said to have hung with their faces to the wall. He once commissioned an agent to find him a picture which, it turned out, he had himself bought three or four years earlier!

Saves Two Lives.

"Neither my sister nor myself might be living today, if it had not been for Dr. King's New Discovery," writes A. D. McDonald, of Fayetteville, N. C., R. F. D. No 8, "for we both had frightful coughs that no other remedy could help. We were told my sister had consumption. She was very weak and had night sweats but your wonderful medicine completely cured us both. It's the best I ever used or heard of." THE PEOPLE ALL

In Chorus Cried, Give Us Newbro's Herpicide.

This word of late has been in everyone's mouth, and many are wondering what the word signifies, though no one has yet been found, who will deny that NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE does the work. Well, for the information of thousands of people who like to know all about a good thing, we would say that HERPICIDE means, a destroyer or killer of "Herpes." Now "Herpes" is the family name of a disease caused by various vegetable parasites. A similar microbe causes dandruff, itching scalp, and falling hair; this is the microbe that NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE promptly destroys; after which the hair grows. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

DAY 762. PHONES NIGHT 1442

MacMahon's Spy

By RYLAND BEALE

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

When the Prussians invaded France Marshal MacMahon sent out Lieutenant Boyer, a member of his staff, to secure information of the enemy's numbers, his equipment, routes of march, etc. Young Boyer was just nineteen years old, possessed a peachy complexion, not even the downiest beard and was chosen from a number of volunteers because he could be successfully disguised as a girl. When he was made up to represent a demoiselle of the middle class all the officers of the staff declared that he made the prettiest woman they had ever seen.

Soon after his departure Lucille Demorest (young Boyer) stopped one day at a house on a road that the Prussian army was expected to pass and said that she had started to go to visit a married sister who lived farther eastward; but, hearing of the coming troops, she was afraid to go any farther. She begged that she might be taken in till the army had passed and the road would be clear. Her request was granted, and she was temporarily received into the family.

There was in this house Jules Poucher, a lout of a fellow, who must needs fall desperately in love with the so called Lucille. Lieutenant Boyer, instead of being pleased with the young man's attentions, was in dread of them, fearing they would betray him. But the more he snubbed the fellow the more he persisted. Then came the Prussians, and a general of division made his headquarters for a couple of days, waiting for that portion of the army to which he belonged to come up, in the very house where Boyer was stopping.

Boyer desired to secure some place where he could overhear any conversation that might take place in the general's room. There was no adjoining apartment to which the spy could gain access, but the cellar offered a very convenient method. Watching till the general's quarters were temporarily vacant, having procured an auger, he bored a hole in the floor.

As luck would have it, that very evening the general called his brigade commanders to his headquarters for instructions. Boyer saw them coming in and went down into the cellar, taking care that he was not seen to go there. He was standing on a box with his ear near the hole he had made when the cellar door opened and down came Jules Poucher with a candle for an armful of firewood. There were but two rooms in the cellar, and Boyer could not effect a hiding. Being in the room under the general's quarters and fearing to be heard by those above, he advanced to meet Jules.

"Why, what are you doing down here alone in the dark?" asked the latter.

Boyer, thinking the young man sympathized with the French cause, concluded to tell him that "she" was there to learn Prussian war secrets.

Now, it happened that Jules that very day had offered the Prussian general some information concerning the French army for a consideration. He didn't care if Lucille gave information of the Prussians to the French; but, seeing a good opportunity to press his suit, he resolutely set to work to do so.

"Give me a kiss," he said.

"Wait a moment and I will," replied Boyer. The lieutenant looked about till he found a bit of wood about two inches long. Then, returning to Jules, who had set down the candle, Boyer let drive a blow, taking Jules under the chin—a boxing feat he had learned in the army athletic training school—and landed him on the floor. Before Jules knew what had transformed a beautiful girl into such a fury Boyer sat on him, pulled open his jaws and inserted the stick he had secured for a gag. There was a clothesline in the cellar, and before Jules had time to recover from his surprise Boyer seized it and got it around his captive's body outside his arms. Having secured these, to tie his legs was a comparatively easy matter.

Jules was now in a position where he could neither interfere with the spy's movements nor make a noise. The latter mounted his box, put his ear to the auger hole and listened. He heard enough to learn the route that would be taken by the Prussians in the advance and the dates of their probable arrival at Metz, which was principally what Marshal MacMahon wanted.

Meanwhile Jules sat on the floor looking at the object of his love with increasing wonder. He still had no suspicion that his Lucille was a man, but he considered her a mighty strong woman. As soon as Boyer had learned all he cared to know from above he got down from his perch. He had feared that, wood being needed, some one would come down for it. So he gathered an armful, and as he was about to pass out, remembering how Jules had bothered him with his attentions, bade him adieu with a few sturdy kicks, which the fellow could neither resent nor complain of.

Boyer went upstairs, put the wood down in the kitchen, walked out of the door and was not seen again in those parts. He reached Marshal MacMahon's headquarters, donned his uniform and reported the information he had gathered.

Then at the mess he made a good story of how he had served the man who would be his lover.

Nervous Women

For nervous, tired women, we recommend Cardui. Cardui is a woman's medicine. It acts specifically on the female organs and has a tonic, building effect on the whole system. It contains no harmful ingredients, being a pure vegetable extract. If you suffer from some form of female trouble, get Cardui at once and give it a fair trial.

TAKE CARDUI J 35

It Will Help You

Mrs. W. W. Gardner, of Paducah, Ky., tried Cardui and writes: "I think Cardui is just grand. I have been using it for eleven years. I am 48 years old and feel like a different woman, since I have been taking it. I used to suffer from bearing down pains, nervousness and sleeplessness, but now the pains are all gone and I sleep good. I highly recommend Cardui for young and old." Try it.

This is excellent weather for the spring poet to get in the mood for his April ode.

"Roosevelt is praying that Lodge will win." The Colonel has perhaps learned that more things are wrought by prayer than by preaching.

We are with Governor-elect Wilson in his fight against the machine politicians, but if he would remain on the crest of the tide of his deserved popularity, he should not venture too far out and drown himself in a sea of words.

The fatality attending United States Senators is something noticeable and remarkable. Charles J. Hughes, junior Senator from Colorado, this week was added to the rapidly growing list of Senators who in the recent past have answered their last roll call.

Attorney Brandeis says he can prove to the transportation companies where they are squandering a cool million dollars per day in their expenditures. Now, the carriers can afford the per diem waste. The noted barrister would be more likely to win imperishable fame, if he would turn his attention to household economics and show the good wives how to furnish wholesome food for a family of three on one dollar per day.

Greensboro has been fortunate in the last twelve months in having three important meetings in connection with the Laymen's Missionary Movement. We refer to the original convention, the anniversary convention just closed and the conference meeting several months ago. It is a good thing to have in our midst men who are leaders in their line of usefulness. It inspires and stimulates in all fields of endeavor.

It is said that it costs $125,000,000 to pick the cotton crop. A New York gentleman says he has invented a picking machine that will greatly reduce this cost. Piffle! We are not anxious to reduce the cost of this work. What we need is more hand pickers. Let the machine stand in the front yard next the big road and rust in the weather along with all the other mechanical pickers that have been exploited. If the gentleman will invent a mechanism whereby the already too great horde of prowlers, petty thieves, loafers, and dusky sports that infest our towns and cities may be put to work, we'll buy it.

A NEW STATE HOUSE

Ex-Governor Thos. J. Jarvis proposed the other night, in a virile and most impressive address, that the present Legislature rise to the height of its privilege and issue a million dollars worth of bonds for the erection of a State house on the present site of the Supreme Court building in Raleigh. He said that to undertake the remodeling of the capitol building would be a stupendous blunder not to be thought of. He was applauded to the echo. Really what North Carolina needs is a capitol that will do honor to this great and growing commonwealth. There are at present almost as many people in North Carolina as in Georgia, and the stone blocks in Georgia's State house would be sufficient for the construction of at least two such squatty structures as that which stands at the head of Fayetteville street. It is true that the state museum is in the capitol at Atlanta, but the exhibits are in the hallways, there being no specially constructed department for them.

Again, if the capitol is to remain at Raleigh, there could be found no more desirable or convenient site than that of the present building.

THE PATTERSON CUP.

The Patterson memorial cup was given in 1905 by Mrs. Lindsay Patterson, of Winston-Salem, to the North Carolina writer of the year whose literary prodduction was held to show the greatest merit. On Thursday evening of this week it was presented to Mr. R. D. W. Connor, secretary of the State Historical Commission, on his recent "Life of Cornelius Harnett," the presentation being made by Attorney-General Bickett before a large and cultured audience assembled in the hall of the Raney library at Raleigh. John Charles McNeill, North Carolina's noted and versatile poet and scholar, held the trophy during the year of its first presentation, 1905; in 1906 it went to Prof. Edwin Mims, on his book. "Life of Sidney Lanier;" in 1907, to Dr. Kemp P. Battle, for his "History of the University;" in 1908, to Capt. S. A. Ashe, on his "History of North Carolina;" in 1909 to Mr. Clarence H. Poe, on his book, "A Southerner in Europe."

It is no small honor to hold such a splendid memorial as the Patterson cup, and one still greater to bring out of the State's dusty archives the names of North Carolinas illustrious heroes, statesmen, and scholars and limn their lives with the beauties of able literary effort. 'Tis true, the cup is given for any worthy literary production, whether historic, poetic, scientific, or otherwise, but the incentive should particularly inspire those students possessing a gift for writing of historic events and characters; for any one who will take the pains to investigate will see that North Carolina is far richer in historic lore and romance than the majority of the states of the Union. Some North Carolina historian or poet might, in addition to winning the cup, make for himself an international fame and for the state a reputation and a glory equaling, if not surpassing those of any commonwealth of the Union.

BUYING A PAIR OF SHOES.

She walked into a shoe store and said to the polite clerk:

"You may show me a pair of walking boots, No. 4. I used to wear 3's, but I go in for solid comfort now."

"Strange," she murmured, "it must be rheumatism. Try 4's, B width. I know I can swim in them, but my feet are so tender."

While the clerk was getting them on she said:

"I used to have such a beautiful foot, not small, but such a good shape. I never had a small foot, but I wore 2 1-2 size for years, until I walked so much and grew heavier."

"Your foot is a peculiar shape; the instep is so high—that is why you require a large size," said the clerk, who had no fear of Ananias before his eyes.

"I've heard," she said, "that the Venus dee Medeechy wears No. 5, and she is a model of true proportions."

"Exactly," said the clerk, growing red in the face as he pulled and tugged to get them on. He had never heard of "de Medeechy," but he was up to a trick or two himself. "After all," he said, "these are too large. You'll find the 4's just right."

He was only gone a moment, but in that time he had erased 5 E from the inside of a pair of shoes and substituted 4 B.

"There, I thought it was strange," she said, when they were on and paid for; "why, those are just as easy as my old shoes. I believe I could just as well have 3's after all."

And the young man without a conscience went back to his duties with the air of one well satisfied with himself. —Lowell Sun.

STRANGE TALE OF ROBBERY IN HOTEL

Visitors Awoke to Find "Doctor" About to Give Them an Injection.

Philadelphia Record.

Arthur McCarty told the detectives yesterday a story of a peculiar robbery and a man who gave his name as Robert M. Law, arrested as a suspect, was held in bail by Magistrate Scott in the Central Police Court, pending a further investigation. McCarty said he and his friend, J. R. Patterson, left their homes in Merchantville to attend a theatre in this city and afterward had dinner, Then they decided to remain in Philadelphia for the night and went to a hotel on Thirteenth street, below Chestnut. Early in the morning they were awakened by some one bending over them and saying: "You needn't be afraid; you're not going to die; you'll get well in a very short time. Just wait until I inject three grains of morphine into your arms and you'll be all right."

At the same time the intruder said he was a doctor and that the morphine treatment was the proper one. McCarty and his frend became alarmed and jumped out of bed. As they did so the "doctor" disappeared. It was then discovered that McCarty's overcoat and some other articles had been stolen. The prisoner was arrested at Broad Street Station by Traffic Officer Knox, on suspicion. He denied having had anything to do with the theft and said his home was in Pittson, but that he had been stopping on Sixteenth street. The detectives who are investigatin gthe affair said the robbery was one of the most extraordinary they had heard of for months.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all the other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucuous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Not Perfect.

A horse dealer was showing a horse to a prospective buyer. After running him back and forward for a few minutes he stopped and said to the buyer: "What do you think of his coat? Isn't he a dandy?"

The buyer, noticing that the horse had the heaves, replied, "Yes, I like his coat all right, but I don't like his pants."—London Tit-Bits.

Dedication of the Bible and Literary Training School of This City.

On Saturday, Jan. 14, at 10:30 a. m., will be the dedication service of the Bible and Literary Training School of Greensboro, N. C.

In erecting the school building we borrowed $1,500. Through the kind donations of the friends of the school and economical management of the finances this loan has been paid, so the school is free from debt.

The property is valued at about $10,500 and is one of the promising and practical institutions of the city.

Rev. Jno. S. Kimber, of Newport, R. I., will conduct the service. It will be of such character that will be interesting to all who may attend. All are invited to come. W. R. Cox.

TAXES, TAXES.

This is to notify all persons that the 1910 taxes have been due since first Monday in September, 1910, and you are requested to come forward at once and pay up, as the time to pay without levy is short. The county and schools need the money.

All parties who contemplate doing a business on which there is a special license, are hereby notified that they must secure a license first, and all who owe such special tax must pay at once or I will have to present their names to the judge of our Superior Court as the law directs. See Sec. No. 89 (last clause) Revenue Act, 1909.

WEEKLY DEBATES IN HIGH SCHOOL

Interesting Events by Four Societies.

Debating and Literary Societies Held Forth Yesterday Afternoon—Debating Societies Elected Their Officers—Debates For Next Week Decided On—Young Ladies Have Literary and Musical Programs.

The two debating and two literary societies of the Greensboro High school held their regular weekly meetings yesterday afternoon. A literary program was rendered by the young ladies of the second section of the McNeil Literary Society; while in the Ionian Literary Society a musical program also was enjoyed. The mid-term election of officers was held in the boys' debating societies, Philomelian and Diaphesian, with the regular debate in the former and a revision of the constitution of the latter society.

Miss Eleanore Moore, president, called the McNeil Society to order, and the following program was rendered:

Reading, by Miss Janie Mitchell.
Reading, by Miss Ina Pegram.
Recitation, by Miss Pearl Smith.

The Ionian Literary society, presided over by Miss Nell Grimsley, enjoyed an excellent program through the efforts of section five.

Recitation, by Miss Lydia Wilson.
Piano Solo, by Miss Katherine Rankin.
Reading, by Miss Nell Grimsley.
Piano Solo, by Miss Vera Anderson.
Vocal Solo, by Miss Queen Wilson.
Reading, by Miss Ruth Vanstory.

Section one of the Philomelian Debating society gave a good debate on the question: "Resolved, That suffrage is a political privilege and not a natural right." Messers. Foust, Lindau, and Horwitz championed the affirmative and won an unanimous vote over the negative composed of Messers. Stone, Hendrix and Turner. After this President Forney called for the election of officers, which resulted as follows:

President, Willard Eutsler; vice president, Henry Foust; secretary, Walter Rowe; treasurer, Julian Turner; first censor, Ralph Lewis; second censor, Adger Forney.

The question for the next debate of this society will be: "Resolved, That the United States should grant independence to the Philippine Islands."

Subject to the suggestions of a committee composed of Roger McDuffie, chairman, Doub Kerr and Joe Wrenn, the constitution of the Diaphesian Debating society was materially strengthened. The following officers were then elected for the spring term:

President, Will Coffin; vice president, Roger McDuffie; secretary, Tully Blair; treasurer, Will Grimsley; first censor, Curtis Holland; second censor, Fred Phipps; monitors, Hugh Wolfe, Doub Kerr.

The first section of this society will next Friday debate whether "the President and Senate of the United States should be elected by the direct vote of the people."

BEFORE JUDGE EURE.

One Man Charged With Reckless Driving—Another Fined $20 For Carrying Concealed Weapon.

Yesterday in the city court John Ingold was arraigned for reckless and fast driving along the streets of the city. He was dismissed upon payment of costs.

Walter Harris, colored, was charged with a double offense. Thursday night he was trying to sell a revolver to the clerk of the news stand at the passenger station, and while exhibiting his shooting-iron it went off and a bullet penetrated the arm of the clerk. Mr. Koon, the gentleman who received the bullet wound, agreed, with the negro, that it was an accidental discharge, but Harris was fined $20 and costs for carrying a concealed weapon; on the charge of reckless shooting, judgment was reserved till today.

The case against Lew Wallace for stealing a ride on a Southern train will be heard today.

Escaped From Convict Camp.

George Sherrill and John Hairston, both colored, escaped Thursday night from the county convict camp in the eastern part of the county, by sawing their shackles. Sherrill is the negro who got two years on the roads for stealing a quantity of meat from a farmer. He had served about six months of his sentence.

Opera In Dumb Show.

The late Clara Novello in her reminiscences tells how Malibran once appeared in "Sonnambula" without uttering a note. She had taken cold and was prevented from singing at the last moment, though crowds of early comers already filled the house. "On the manager telling her, in despair, that, besides loss of money, these disappointed people would be dangerous she said, 'I can't speak above my breath; I should have to do it in dumb show!' Bunn at once caught at this outburst as if seriously meant and on his knees begged her to try this, and she, fired by the novelty, did so. The grateful public raved in praise of this surprising tour de force, and the sensation it made filled the papers."

Bathing Machines.

Somebody has inquired why "bathing machines," the comfortable privacy of which for ocean bathing has never attracted bathers in this country, are called machines, remarking that there is nothing of a machine about them except the horse which draws them to the beach. The answer has been found in the new Oxford Dictionary. It appears that a "machine" was originally a "structure of any kind, material or immaterial," and has nothing to do with machinery, a later word. Ships were called machines, and it would have been proper to speak of a pulpit as a machine.—Argonaut.

Laughter and Death.

He can be said to have won the game of life who at the last can laugh. That final speech of O. Henry, the short story writer, was finer than any story he ever wrote. Just as he was dying he turned to the doctor and said: "Pull up the curtain, doc. I'm afraid to go home in the dark." The speech had in it wide courage and a sense of values. One forgives the royal Charles much frivolity for the sake of his dying speech, "Gentlemen, I fear I'm an unconscionable time a-dying."—Harper's.

A Complicated Case.

"Of course, doctor, German measles are seldom serious?"

"I never met but one fatal case."

"Fatal?"

"Yes. It was a Frenchman, and when he discovered it was German measles that he had mortification set in."

Philosophy is nothing but discretion —Selden.

An Emotional Musician

By DAVID WALTER CHURCH

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

In 1859 I enlisted in the —th infantry of the French army. I remained in my native country until my regiment was sent by the Emperor Napoleon III. to Mexico. Shortly before Maximilian was shot by the Mexicans I entered into a conspiracy to rescue him. One of our conspirators gave away the plan. We were arrested, tried and sentenced to meet the same fate as the emperor.

The day before we were to suffer death a man dressed in the uniform of a band in the Mexican army came into the room where we were confined and asked if any of us could play upon any instrument. He had not got the words out of his mouth before I caught his intention. There are, or were at that time, more musicians in Europe than in the western hemisphere. This man was after men to enlist in his band.

One prisoner, who may possibly have seen through the fellow's design as I did, said that he could beat the drum. The inquirer gave him a contemptuous look and waited for other answers. I had no musical education whatever and was unable to play a note on any instrument. It occurred to me to give the same reply as he who had said he could beat the drum, but the reception of his statement assured me that such a course would be useless. To gain time, with a view to living a little longer, I sang out:

"I played the trombone for years in the band of the Tenth cuirassiers of the French army."

I saw at once that I had caught the man's attention. He waited for some one else to claim to be a musician, but as none did he said to me:

"Come with me."

My comrades were all shot. I was enlisted in the band of a regiment that was intended to be used at the palace of the president. I feared they would test my capabilities before enlisting me, but the man who had secured me—he turned out to be the bandmaster—set so great store by what I had told him that it did not occur to him to doubt that I was proficient as a trombone player.

Just before I was to take my place in the band for the first practice I feigned illness and told the bandmaster that I must defer attempting to play. He grumbled, but excused me. The practice came off on the parade quadrangle of the barracks, and I could hear every note. I listened to the bass parts, especially to the trombone—for some one seemed to be temporarily taking my place—and since my life hung on my being able to do something with the instrument I listened with corresponding attention.

Though I knew nothing of music, it turned out that I had an ear for chords. I told the bandmaster that I had not touched a trombone for years and it would require at least a couple of weeks before I could take a part. Would he bring me an instrument and some sheet music? He assented. I got my nurse, a Mexican girl, to show me what notes on the trombone were indicated on the sheet music. Then I practiced for dear life.

Luck favored me, or, rather the bandmaster had an intention that I knew nothing of. A prominent general of the army died and was to have a military funeral. The bandmaster was anxious that I should take my place with the band at the obsequies. When the day came round he ordered me to get up. I did so and put on a uniform he gave me. Then I went with him and took my position with the other musicians. The music was put on to my trombone, and to my delight I found it to be that which I had been practicing, a dead march.

I stumbled a bit at first, but kept my mind fixed on the fact that if I did not succeed the next funeral I attended would be my own. Naturally the melancholy of the scattered bass notes I played was enhanced by this remembrance. As soon as I had played a strain once and got the run of it I put my whole soul into it on playing it again. The profound sorrow I felt for myself I transmitted to the trombone. Those hearing the depth of agony in these notes were moved to tears.

But at the grave a shock awaited me. The music for a dirge was circulated. I had never seen it and dared not attempt it. Just before I was to play my first note I burst into a torrent of tears and told the bandmaster that I had been so moved by the music we had been playing that I could do no more. He looked at me curiously, but I could see by his expression that he believed I had an emotional nature calculated to make a remarkable musician. He excused me from making any further attempt, putting a man that could be better spared from another part on the trombone. The change was a great benefit to me, for there was a marked contrast between his clumsy work and the broken hearted wail that I had produced.

As soon as I got back to barracks I took to my bed. The bandmaster came to see me and told me to rest as long as I liked. It was plain that he considered me a prize. The next day I asked if I could not ride out on horseback, that I might be revived by the fresh air. I was given the permission, a good horse, and I sallied forth.

That was the longest ride I ever took, since I rode all the way from the City of Mexico to Vera Cruz. Being in Mexican uniform, I was not questioned. From Vera Cruz I sailed for France.

MARCHED AND MUNCHED.

The Soldiers Who Didn't Steal the Apples Ate Them.

A reprimand which takes the form of a joke is sometimes more effectual than a burst of anger. Such an example was furnished by a Confederate officer and described by T. O. Moore in his "Anecdotes of General Cleburne." The southern army, marching across the mountains of Georgia, had its supply trains cut off and was obliged to live upon the country.

Apples, chestnuts and persimmons were plenty, but the army had strict orders not to depredate upon private property. One day I was trudging along in the rear of General Granbury's brigade when I saw down the road General Cleburne sitting on the top rail of a fence, while below him lay five or six bushels of fine red apples. Near by stood a number of soldiers, who looked as mean as men could look.

General Granbury saluted General Cleburne, who remarked:

"I'm peddling apples today."

"How's that?"

"These gentlemen," pointing to the soldiers who had stolen the apples, "have been very kind. They have gathered apples for me and charged nothing. I'll give them to you and your men. Now get down and take one, and each of your men take one—only one, mind you—until all are gone."

The invitation was accepted, the men cheering for "Old Pat." When the apples were gone the general made each man who had stolen the apples carry a rail for a mile or two.

BATTLE WITH A BOG.

Redmire's Suction Tore the Leather Gaiters Off a Man's Legs.

Readers of "Lorna Doone" can never forget the terrible drowning of Carver in the bog. That death trap is still to be seen in the Exmoor country, and not long ago a valuable hunting horse was engulfed in the mire, and his rider barely escaped with his life. S. Baring-Gould, who had a narrow escape from a similar bog, tells of it in his "Book of the West." The author was with an official from the ordnance survey, who was correcting the map of the country:

"In the dusk we lost our way and got into Redmire. It was winter, the bog was unusually wet, and we could scarcely trip from one stone to another. Six bullocks had been lost in that very spot during the year.

"All at once I sank above my waist and was rapidly being sucked in farther. I called to my companion, but in the dark he could not see me. The water reached to my armpits. Happily I had with me a stout bamboo six feet long. I placed it athwart the surface and held my arms as far extended as possible. By quickly jerking my body I gradually lifted it, and then I threw myself forward as far as I could. Finally I managed to cast myself full length on the surface. The suction was so great that it tore the leather gaiters off my legs.

"For a quarter of an hour I lay stretched out, gasping, before I got breath enough to worm myself along to dry soil."

RAILWAYS IN SPAIN.

Their Methods Are Not Those of the Strenuous Life.

A Spanish railway seems an excellent place for a rest cure. "I remember," writes Mr. S. L. Bensusan, "when going on a short journey in Andalusia, the train that carried me stopped at a short junction. While we were at rest here, after some hours of travel at the rate of at least twelve miles an hour, the driver uncoupled his engine and proceeded down the line with it in the direction we were not to take.

"The passengers walked contentedly up and down, smoked countless cigarettes, ate oranges, resisted the importunities of beggars. At last I became uneasy and asked where the driver had gone. 'Pedro has run down the line on his engine to take a birthday gift to his mother, who lives over there,' explained the station master; 'he is indeed a good son and will not trust his parcel to the post. Spain is full of thieves.' And when the good son had come back from his mission he restored the engine to its proper position and we re-entered the train, which went on its journey after three-quarters of an hour's delay."—London Graphic.

Surveying Land.

The art of land surveying owes its origin to the fact that the Egyptians were unable to keep permanent monuments on land which was overflowed every year by the Nile. Under such circumstances it became necessary to have some means of reidentifying the various pieces of land. The instruments and mathematical methods of astronomy, with suitable modifications, were used by the Egyptians for land surveying.

An Unsatisfactory Method.

"Been walking the floor because of your debts, eh?" said the sympathetic friend.

"Yes," replied the improvident person.

"Any results?"

"Not worth mentioning. I walked till I wore out the carpet and had to go further in debt for a new one."—Washington Star.

OPEN LETTER

To Mass. Mutual Life Insurance Co.—

Gentlemen: Your fifty-seventh annual statement shows that you paid a little over $232,000.00 to policy-holders who died from Kidney Disease and Diabetes last year.

In a line of test cases Fulton's Compounds have shown efficiency of 87 per cent in these cases, and if those policy-holders had been advised of this treatment and our figures maintained you ought to have nearly $200,000 of those losses in your treasury.

But let us say that, making due allowance for our enthusiasm, the proven efficiency should be reduced 50 per cent. That would still mean that you are losing $100,000 a year due to lack of knowledge of these specifics. Is not that vast sum worth saving annually? And even if it were not, isn't it a humane duty to carry hope into clouded homes?

An idea of the magnitude of this question and the strain it is going to put on the Life Insurance Companies unless something is done can be had from the following census deaths from Bright's Disease.

1900	58,000
1910	90,000

(These figures for 1910 are based on U. S. mortality reports for 1901-2-3 and 4.)

Why not serve humanity and finance together by notifying policy-holders who have Bright's Disease and Diabetes of this treatment. They will do the rest. And by the way, we want to hear from and advise everyone not getting results.

We have abundant testimony to prove that we can probably save to your treasury over $100,000 annaully. And what is true of your company is true of every other life insurance company of equal business and importance.

Yours very truly,

JOHN J. FULTON CO.

P. S.—As showing you what is actually going on, will say that a policy-holder of the Prudential living in Detroit, was very low with Bright's Disease, and the announcemnt of her death was expected daily when she was put on Fulton's Renal Compound. The loss was saved and she is living today. One of the local representatives of the company was so impressed that upon hearing that another policy-holder in the same city was down with Bright's Disease and a loss was imminent he took our Detroit agent with him and the two were instrumental in putting the second patient on the treatment, and we are now advised that he, too, is recovering.

Losses that are getting ready to mature can and are being stopped all over this country, but the Life Insurance Companies will not realize the full measure of our help to their bank accounts until they take notice and pass the word to their agents.

For Bright's Disease, Fulton's Renal Compound is the one used. For Diabetes, Fulton's Diabetes Compound. It can be had in your city at Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

Open-Air Schools No Longer Mere "Fad." Survey.

The opening of windows in a Providence school not quite three years ago was so novel a feat that the whole country watched. Newspapers reported it at length and committees came to inspect. The example set by Providence has been followed from coast to coast. Now the open-air school is almost taken for granted. In 1908 three cities had outdoor schools, in 1909, five; at present there are 27 schools and some 15 or 16 cities have adopted this new feature of an educational system.

Boston, New York, Chicago, Hartford and Rochester, the pioneers after Providence, have had a number of imitators in the last few months. Pawtucket, R. I., besides establishing a very fine open-air school, has adopted the progressive policy which prevails in Boston, of including an open-air room in each new school building. Montclair, N. J., has started a school in a tent, which has attracted wide newspaper attention. In Orange, N. J., the new open-air school is run under the joint auspices of the Board of Education, the Health Department and the Bureau of Associated Charities. These supply respectively teachers, medical inspection, and supervision of the special diet which it is customary to give the children in these schools. A somewhat similar plan is being started in Philadelphia.

Washington, Milwaukee, Wis.; Albany and Buffalo, N. Y., and Oakland, Cal., have recently adopted the new gospel of fresh air for school children. In Detroit Superintendent Martindale has ordered that on pleasant days all classes in schools with large enough playgrounds shall be held outdoors.

A host of cities are seriously considering the opening of fresh-air schools, among which are Atlanta, Brockton, Columbus, Erie, Grand Rapids, Mich., Minneapolis, Newark, Toledo and Wilkes Barre. Pittsburg has an open-air school supported by private funds and Philadelphia a private tuition school for normal pupils conducted out-of-doors.

A RELIABLE COUGH MEDICINE

Is a valuable friend. Foley's Honey and Tar fulfils this condition exactly. Mrs. Charles Kline, N. 8th St., Easton, Pa., states: "Several members of my family have been cured of bad coughs and colds by the use of Foley's Honey and Tar and I am never without a bottle in the house. It soothes and relieves the irritation in the throat and loosens up the cold. I have always found it a reliable cough cure." Howard Gardner.

True charity will seek to purify the well and not rest content with painting the pump.

Mr. A. G. Coffin says that when he went home Saturday night that he thought, and all his people thought, that he had pneumonia. He rubbed a box of Mother's Joy on his chest, as directed, and went to sleep, and he says the next morning he was entirely well. And he fully believes it broke up a case of pneumonia. All who doubt this will ask Mr. Coffin. For sale by Conyers & Sykes.

UNEXPLORED CANADA.

Vast Areas Where the Foot of a White Man Has Never Trod.

There are vast areas in Canada of which even the government has no definite knowledge, and there are thousands of square miles where the foot of a white man has never trod. Practically all knowledge of this big wild country has been secured again and again along a few chosen and well worn routes, outside of which investigation has seldom gone.

Imagine a dozen or so well beaten vehicle highways traversing a country one-fourth as large as Europe—narrow highways hemmed in by impenetrable wilderness—and one may form some sort of idea of the little that is still known of 600,000 square miles of the North American continent.

Along these routes nearly all "explorers" have gone. Along them are situated most of the fur posts, and beyond their narrow lines but little is known. And in this world of forest and ridge mountains and eternal desolation, still buried in the mystery and silence of endless centuries, are its "people."

Approximately there are from 15,000 to 25,000 human souls in an area fifteen times the size of Ohio, and there are no more than 500 of these who have not some Indian blood in their veins. On the other hand, fully one-half of the total population has its strain of white blood.—Leslie's Weekly.

Solves a Deep Mystery.

"I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart," wrote C. B. Rader, of Lewisburg, W. Va., "for the wonderful double benefit I got from Electric Bitters, in curing me of both a severe case of stomach trouble and of rheumatism, from which I had been an almost helpless sufferer for ten years. It suited my case as though made just for me." For dyspepsia, indigestion, jaundice and to rid the system of kidney poisons that cause rheumatism, Electric Bitters has no equal. Try them. Every bottle is guaranteed to satisfy. Only 50c. at Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

A man may go up when you kick him, but you cannot claim credit for kindness.

Old Soldier Tortured.

"For years I sufferd unspeakable torture from indigestion, constipation and liver trouble," wrote A. K. Smith, a war veteran at Erie, Pa., "but Dr. Kings' New Life Pills fixed me all right. They are simply great." Try them for any stomach, liver or kidney trouble. Only 25c. at Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

Foley's Kidney Remedy-An Appreciation

L. McConnell, Catherine St., Elmira, N. Y., writes: "I wish to express my appreciation of the great good I derived from Foley's Kidney Remedy, which I used for a bad case of kidney trouble. Five bottles did the work most effectively and proved to me beyond doubt it is the most reliable kidney medicine I have ever taken." Howard Gardner.

DON'T GET TOO SEDATE.

Play Is as Good For Grown Persons as For Children.

Play is just as necessary to keep a grown man young and a middle aged man from growing old as it is to make a child grow into a man. Wordsworth's lines are as sound physiology as good poetry:

My heart leaps up when I behold
The rainbow in the sky.
So was it when my life began;
So be it when I am a man
Or let me die.

In childhood we play because we are young, in middle age we are young because we play, and if we keep it up we shall never know that we are old until we are one day suddenly dead. Yet the absurd idea has grown up, and Mrs. Grundy has adopted it with her usual fatuousness, that play is something undignified in a grown man and unbecoming in a lady. And this unfortunately is one of the rare instances where "thinking makes it so." After a man has practiced this belief in the uselessness of exercise for half a decade or so and become fat and pompous and red faced or pale and slack muscled and short winded then the contortions that he indulges in when he decides to unbend and try to play furnish considerably more entertainment to spectators than to himself.—Dr. Woods Hutchinson in Outing.

YESTERDAY WITH THE LEGISLATORS

Number of Bills of Local Interest—New Orleans Favored by Senate—Near Beer Discussion—Committeeman Duncan Entertains Republican Members.

Raleigh, Jan. 13.—In the legislature today a number of bills were introduced, none being of general interest. The Senate passed a resolution favoring New Orleans for the world's fair.

The Senate.

The Senate met at 11 o'clock, Rev. J. S. Massey, editor of the Christian Advocate offering prayer.

Introduction of Bills.

Hawkins, of Warren: Limiting liability of fidelity and assurance companies. Judiciary.

Hobgood, of Guilford: Relative to laying out and working public roads in Guilford.

The committee on propositions and grievances reported without prejudice the bill to conserve the cattle supply of the state, recommending thatt it be referred to the committee on judiciary, which was done.

The report of the committee on rules passed third reading recommending that all bills reported unfavorably by committees lie on the table unless there is a minority report, provided they may be taken from the table and placed on the calendar at the request of any senator.

A favorable report was made on the bill requesting the state's representatives and senators in Congress to vote for New Orleans as the logical place for holding the World's Fair, but Senator Graham objected to the word "logical" in the bill and offered a substitute, which passed its readings and was ordered engrossed and sent to the house.

The committee on propositions and grievances reported favorably on the House bill prohibiting the sale of near beer, beerine or other drinks containing alcohol in Macon county, tagging on an amendment providing that the bill should not interfere with the sale of soda fountain drinks. Senator Bassett's motion to postpone action was lost and during the lengthy discussion a number of senators took occasion to express their views on prohibition in no uncertain terms. The feeling seemed to prevail that a State-wide anti-near beer bill covering this matter would soon come up, finally it passed third reading and was sent to the house for concurrence in the amendment.

The House.

Speaker Dowd rapped for order at 11 o'clock. The prayer was by Rev. Milton A. Barber, of the Episcopal church.

Under the head of reports of committees a great number of local bills heretofore introduced were returned with recommendations that they pass. So that they will take their places on the calendar of the house.

Battle, of Wake: Authorize the State Fair Association to hold property to the value of $150,000 instead of $50,000 as now limited.

Commissioner of Agriculture W. A. Graham has sent to the officers of the Southern Commercial Congress, at Atlanta, Ga., at their request a piece of North Carolina long leaf pine, out of which they will have made a gavel for the presiding officer. They are also to have a duplicate gavel made to be presented to President Taft when he delivers an address before the congress in March.

A "smoker" is announced to be given by the Capitol Club in honor of the members of the general assembly on the evening of January 18. Plans are on foot to make the coming event the most enjoyable and elaborate ever given by this organization.

National Committeeman E. C. Duncan, Collector of Internal Revenue Wheeler Martin, District Attorney H. F. Seawell, U. S. Marshal Claudius Dockery and Postmaster Willis Briggs gave a delightful banquet last night complimentary to the Republican members of the general assembly—seven senators and seventeen representatives.

A representative of H. J. Heinz & Co. will be at our store today, Saturday, January 14, demonstrating the famous "Fifty-Seven Varieties." All our friends and customers are invited to call during this demonstration.
